PROFESSIONAL CAREER

Christopher Lee is the Director of Asset Management at Bamboo Equity Partners™. Christopher (Chris) is responsible for overseeing the portfolio of assets and the analysis of acquisitions and dispositions.

In this role, Chris will utilize Bamboo's close relationships with vendors, banks and other real estate professionals to arrange the successful disposition of assets, to ensure optimal and on-time returns to our investors and clients.

Chris joins Bamboo with 13 years of experience overseeing and managing a multi-family and commercial real estate portfolio for a private family office in New York City. During this time, Chris was the Director of Asset Management and facilitated all acquisitions, dispositions, refinances, major capital improvement projects, as well as, steadily growing returns and cash flow for the multiple layers of partnerships and owners. Chris also provided advice on a variety of complex real estate issues and worked diligently with third parties to ensure assets were performing well and returning desired dividends in line with projections and expectations.

Chris is a native of Melbourne, Australia, but now resides in St. Louis with his wife Brigid (native St. Louis), daughter Olivia and son Lucas. In his spare time, you can find Chris on the golf course or at the farm riding horses and four wheelers. Being outside and enjoying all four seasons is what makes St. Louis such a beautiful place to live and raise a family.
